"God has found me worthy to be a minister of His Gospel, and so when I speak, I strive to please God and not men."

1 Thessalonians 2:4

+Dear Friends,

Today's Liturgy of the Word continues last week's focus on the use of our material possessions. I know, you're thinking, "here we go again." But let's focus on the present moment.

The first reading is a condemnation to those who hoard their own wealth. The Gospel paints a vivid picture of what awaits those who ignore the poor (whether in body or soul) by choosing to make material wealth and possessions the center of their lives. As mentioned in my riveting homily, a modern day question could be: "Am I simply coasting on my faith as it is now, along with whatever possessions I've managed to accumulate?"

Much of today's advertising, some would say 'brainwashing,' urges us to place our hopes and desires in the promise of happiness supposedly offered by this or that. We've all bought into the lie before. Everything that we amass in this life will remain behind when we die. Remember the old joke: "I've never seen a hearse pulling a U-Haul before!"

The promise of eternal life is the ONE promise that will never pass away! Again, it boils down to the hard and yet comforting truth that it is our Catholic Faith, its practice and zeal that calls for our attention, dedication and commitment! I know at times it seems like the same old record (remember those?) playing over and over again but it TRULY is the most important part of our lives! I wonder why at times it's so hard for us to remember that? Let us ask the Lord for the strength to make the right choices in this life.

Each year the Archdiocese assigns a missionary priest to visit our parish, speaking on their ministry, their need for support and prayers. Next weekend, MQP will welcome The Reverend Michael K. Ocran from the Archdiocese of Cape Coast, Ghana. Father will be hearing confessions on Saturday from the usual 3:30-4:30 p.m. before our Saturday Vigil Mass. I know that you will make him feel very welcome to our wonderful parish!

May we have a prayerful week! God bless you all!

Father Mike

A Holy Year of Mercy

"Be merciful, even as your Father is merciful"
(Luke 6:36)

Catechists: For catechists within the Archdiocese and around the world that they may continue to instruct and live the message of mercy, we pray to the Lord.
