“God has found me worthy to be a minister of His Gospel, and so when I speak, I strive to please God and not men.”

1 Thessalonians 2:4

+Dear Friends,

How truly appropriate it is that, as we gather to celebrate Holy Mass this weekend, on the doorstep of Independence Day, we hear St. Paul speaking to us of the freedom we receive as men and women who bear the image of Jesus Christ through the Sacrament of Baptism.

He encourages us to use this freedom to love God and neighbor as we love ourselves. The Gospel reminds us that our focus needs to always be on the Lord Jesus, Who invites us to follow Him unreservedly.

We are free to make this choice and once we do, we will be a people dedicated to serving others.

With freedom comes great responsibility and the choice to either act for good or for evil. Compound this “choice” with doing evil in the Name of God is simply beyond words to comprehend. We are again forced to think about and discuss the freedoms we enjoy in our nation and how to handle such maniacal madness. I don’t have the answers; only God does. We do the one thing we Catholics do best: PRAY. You all know I speak of my great pastor, Fr. Spicuzza a lot. I will always remember him saying that we will never have lasting peace in the world until everyone accepts the Prince of Peace, Jesus Christ! That simple but profound statement has stayed with me all the rest of my life. As we prepare to celebrate the great celebration of our Independence Day, let us double our efforts to pray for our nation and her citizens.

We will offer Holy Mass on Independence Day at 9:00 a.m. Come, let us give thanks and pray for our nation!

I’d like to share a few things that came up at our recent Priesthood Days gathering with Archbishop Charles. First, we need to continue looking at the number of buildings we have, not necessarily parishes, but buildings. In other words, parishes that have been merged or are close to one another, or a new parish has been made and still has multiple church sites, need to take concrete steps in either building a new church and/or selling off church buildings no longer needed.

Second, we are offering way too many Masses throughout the Archdiocese. It is better to offer a Mass for a filled church than a quarter-filled one. This will naturally affect the common statement: “Don’t do anything to MY Mass!” The day(s) are approaching quickly when that mindset won’t work any longer. Many grew up in the days when parishes had multiple priests; the abnormally high numbers of the 1940s through early 1960s. Our current state, in the history of the Church, is truly the norm; there has always been a “shortage” of priests. Being Catholic will soon not be a matter of “convenience.” Some may have to drive farther to Mass or at a different time. But, think about it, we think nothing of driving distances to shop, eat or whatever. That will be the new normal.

Third, as I have written before, PARENTS & PARISHES simply must encourage their sons to prayerfully consider the vocation to the Priesthood!

Fourth, much of the laity does not fully grasp the ‘shortage’ as the priests do. This is because there is always Mass(es) offered on the weekends, so the appearance remains that we have plenty of priests. They mostly do not attend during the week, so, as I just stated, the appearance remains. Let us continue to pray for our parish(es), our fellow parishioners and our priests!

God Bless You All & God Bless the USA!

Elementary RE:

Parents: are your children uncertain about the sacrament of reconciliation? They will only get comfortable with it and come to appreciate the wonder of receiving God’s loving care and forgiveness if they participate. Please prepare them for the rite, and bring them to meet God in the priest. You may come on a Saturday afternoon, OR you may set up a more convenient appointment!

Catechists: Plan now to attend two archdiocesan training events this fall -

Annual Gathering of Disciples. A day of formation for catechists, evangelizers, and liturgical ministers. Held at Roncalli High School from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Saturday, September 7.

Annual Evangelization Workshop: How to Make Missionary Disciples by God’s Grace. Held at St. Bartholomew parish in Columbus from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m., Saturday, October 26.

Adult RE:

We will be reading Divine Renovation: Bringing Your Parish From Maintenance to Mission, by Fr. James Mallon, during the month of July. If you would like to purchase a book and join the discussion on July 28th, sign up on the stairwell bulletin board.

General Interest:

Part of our duty as a member of the Body of Christ is to continue his work telling people about the love of God and his plan of salvation. As Popes have confirmed: the Church exists to evangelize!

Our next generation of disciples needs to be formed in the Catholic faith. Join the religious education wing of our parish and share your love of God and his Church.

It seems that the Church is embroiled in controversy, corruption, and dispute. When has it ever been different? Even St. Paul the Evangelist had a service-separating dispute with Barnabas and Mark. Trust that God is in charge and is working for the greater good in His way and in His time, and remain close to Him in prayer and faithful to Him in deed. May God send his blessings to us!
