"God has found me worthy to be a minister of His Gospel, and so when I speak, I strive to please God and not men."

1 Thessalonians 2:4

+Dear Friends,

Last weekend we heard the parallel stories of conversion of Isaiah, St. Paul, and St. Peter. This weekend we hear parallel discourses concerning those who put their hope and trust in the Lord and those who do not.

The prophet Jeremiah reminds us all that those who turn their hearts away from the Lord will be cursed. Not exactly something one wants to hear, right? The one who trusts in the Lord will be blessed and blossom like a tree planted near the waters of a stream.

In the familiar Gospel passage read today, we hear the Beatitudes. I like to think of them as "attitudes of being." These inspiring words remind us that everything changed the day we were baptized into Christ and His Church. If we choose to continue to trust in the Lord, we are counted among the blessed.

One often finds the Beatitudes being misinterpreted. When Jesus speaks of the "poor in spirit" for example, He's not speaking simply of the physically poor. When we speak of the "meek, who will inherit the earth," He's not speaking of a cowering, whimpering mouse. In these and the other Beatitudes, Our Lord is speaking of the practice of the faith. He's speaking of the need to stay the course; to be courageous in the proclamation of the faith; to be humble and to rejoice when persecuted for our faith. Placed within this context, it's easy to see and understand what Our Lord was intending to say.

One of the great Patristic Fathers of the Church, St. Gregory of Nyssa, wrote: "No matter how hard I try, when it comes to God's power or wisdom or goodness, I cannot be like God. But to make myself poor, in the sense of these Beatitudes, to empty myself of all my egoism and selfishness, that is an option, a choice I can make, if I will."

Perhaps as we draw ever closer to Ash Wednesday and the start of the holy season of Lent on Wednesday, March 2nd, we could prayerfully consider how we have turned our hearts to the Lord Jesus, placing our trust in Him. How are we doing? How are you doing? How am I doing? A reminder ... Masses on Ash Wednesday will be offered at Noon and 7:00pm. The first Stations of the Cross, on March 4th, will be at 6:00pm.

Have a prayer-full week, everyone!

Prayer to St. Michael

Saint Michael the Archangel, defend us in battle. Be our protection against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do Thou, O Prince of the Heavenly Host, by the power of God, cast into hell, Satan and all the evil spirits, who prowl about the world seeking the ruin of souls. Amen.
