1 Thessalonians 2:4

+Dear Friends,

The readings for the entire liturgical year of 2023 lead us to today's celebration of the Solemnity of Christ the King and today's Gospel from St. Matthew.

On this final Sunday before the holy time of Advent begins, the Lord Jesus tells us just how our activity will be judged when we finally "meet our Maker" face to face. The text is nothing short of chilling, for there is no escaping its central questions.

We are each asked to examine how we have or have not fed the hungry, given or not given drink to the thirsty, welcomed or shunned the stranger, clothed or ignored the naked and visited or turned away from the imprisoned.

The Holy Spirit is our strength and our guide as we are formed into disciples. At the close of this liturgical year, let us turn to the Holy Spirit, seeking His help to respond to what our Lord Jesus commands of us in today's Gospel!

Of course, it goes without saying that one can interpret our Lord's commands in a spiritual sense also. When it comes to spirituality and knowledge of Christ Jesus, His Church and most especially His Presence in the Holy Eucharist, there are many "hungry, thirsty, naked and imprisoned" people. Perhaps even more so, aiding in another's eternal salvation is of utmost charity and kindness.

Let us think back to one year ago, November 26, 2022. In what ways in the past year have I lived the challenge of Our Lord?

Next weekend, the First Sunday of Advent, y'all will find The Magnificat Advent meditation booklets we provide each year. Take one home and pray it every day in preparation for the glory that is Christmas!

Gott bless you!

Father Michael Litzner

The Giving Tree is now set up and full of gift tags. This is a great opportunity for our parish to show our support and help others during the Christmas Season. Why not make this a family affair and encourage your children to select a tag or 2 from the tree? The Friends of St. Anthony has received requests for assistance from the Archdiocese of Indianapolis Christmas Store, Family Promise and Mental Health America of Hendricks County. These agencies are asking for the gifts to be returned within the next few weeks. In order to ensure these families and individuals receive their gifts on time for Christmas, please have your items returned back to the church by Sunday, DECEMBER 10th. Please do NOT wrap these gifts, but attach the tag's string taped to the gift. If you have any questions, please contact Beth Simpson at 317-386-3024 or by email at: oldbluechair9102627@gmail.com
